

Rosalinda Randall

Speaker | Author | Media Source

Helping Businesses and Individuals Find Success through Better Communication and Social Skills

Rosalinda Randall is a modern-day social skills, civility and interpersonal communication expert based in Northern California. She focuses on helping businesses and individuals communicate and interact more effectively so they can find greater success with a lot less drama.

Her interactive presentations are filled with real-life, relatable examples and participants walk away equipped with tools and tactics that can immediately be put to use. With five different generations working shoulder to shoulder in the today's workplace, her lessons are more important than ever for improving a businesses overall culture and stabilizing a productive and amiable workplace.

Her core presentations, which are the foundation for strengthening communication and social skills for any audience, include:

- ⇒ Let's Keep It Civil: Utilizing Communication and Soft Skill Techniques to Avoid Workplace Missteps and Disasters
- ⇒ Upgrading Your Business Presence with Polished Manners and Soft Skills
- ⇒ Courtesy or Conflict: Is There a Place for Good Manners at Work?
- ⇒ Millennials in the Workplace: Making the Transition from Faceless to Face-to-Face

She also offers customized presentations geared for specific audiences including: On-site Service Professionals, Sales Professionals, Startup Owners and Employees, IT Professionals, New Hires, Millennials, and an entire series for College and University students and athletes moving from the classroom into the workplace.

Clients include:

CooperVision®

For more details about her presentations and availability:

O: 650.871.6200 | E: rosalinda@rosalindarandall.com | W: rosalindarandall.com